

We went to Plan B!!

On the 15 June Local History members were meant to listen to a Zoom talk by Neil Littleales on “Who the hell is Arthur?” I think we were all intrigued to find out about Arthur but it was not to be. With 15 minutes to go Neil experienced severe technical problems involving his whole village and was unable to deliver his talk. As about 25 people had logged on for the Zoom talk we went to Plan B where I gave a presentation on Portsmouth’s Lost Canal.

Milton Sea Lock built 1882 as the entrance to the old canal.

Everyone was very kind and appreciative. Thank you for the Book Token I received which is very welcome.

We will have to find out about Arthur another time.
